

UPDATES

Last year we had an unfortunate computer and back-up drive failure which has put us behind in entering results and points. Hopefully we will be able to catch up soon. Our back-up drive was sent to California. Unfortunately they were unable to recover any of the stored data - the back-up of our whole web page. In the meantime we are making new pages such as this one and new points schedule and race schedule pages. One positive note is that there has been an increase in junior entries and we have been able to obtain more race results so it is taking us longer to post points and results.

3/10/08: ROAD SCHEDULE: March and April race information has been posted. We are missing information on some races, but it is a never-ending search for flyers, etc and we will continue to update each week throughout the season. New this year is additional ("OTHER INFORMATION") under some of the races with information that we think important for the juniors to know. Also new this year is listing the races in weekly sections so you will know week-to-week what races are upcoming and can plan racing, vs training, vs recovery. Don't forget that "RECOVERY" is a very important aspect of racing so it would be unwise to neglect it. Continuing this year is the rule that juniors must use junior gearing for ALL races, not just junior races.
